The 39th JCCP International Symposium was held online on January 28, 2021. The theme was “Outlook and Challenges for the Oil Industry Standing at the Crossroads: Contributions and Strategies for a Sustainable Society.” There was an active exchange of opinions among government officials, oil companies, and energy experts in oil and gas producing countries in the Middle East, North America and Asia. Approximately 600 audiences participated from all over the world. Please see this link for lecture materials

Leaders Panel 2 "HR Development and Management in the New Normal -Nurturing Leaders and Technology Transfer-"

Chairperson
Mr. NAKAYAMA Masashi,
Director,
Senior Executive Officer, Cosmo Oil Co.,

The Panel 2 focused on HRD and management matters. Those different approaches taken by each organization in the Covid-19 disaster were introduced and presented. In particular, there were presentations on new management and leadership development programs using digital technology, which were very interesting and unique to each country and organization. Through the presentations and the Q & A session with the chairperson, issues and solutions were shared and thereby the significance of the information exchange was reaffirmed. Leaders Panel 3 “Technological Innovation for Carbon Neutral -Fuel Technologies, Petrochemicals, Hydrogen, CCUS-”

Chairperson Mr. NAKAYAMA
 Director, Senior Executive Officer,
 Cosmo Oil Co., Ltd.

In the Leaders' Panel 3, they exchanged their opinions based on the theme. They understood from the presentations that each country had its own unique approach to carbon neutrality, including biofuels, hydrogen and CCUS, despite the fact that the situation in each country was very different. In the current severe situation of the new coronavirus, we could have the opportunity to promote mutual understanding among the countries to solve the common problems.
